MASS TORTS

Fears Nachawati leads the U.S. in product liability and mass tort litigation as recognized by Law360 and is named Best Law Firm in 2021 by U.S. News & World Report. Majed Nachawati, the firm's co-founder, attributes this success to a team of 70 talented lawyers involved in every mass tort currently litigated in the U.S. The firm represents many states and municipalities in opioid, asbestos, talc, and water pollution litigation. "The dedicated team at FN fights day in and day out to ensure every client receives their day in court," says partner Darren McDowell. Equally as important, Fears Nachawati is the largest minority-owned product liability law firm in the nation. "The firm employs the best, most diverse group of attorneys that represents the model for future firms. Opportunities for minority-owned firms should be provided in future md and class actions at the highest levels—specifically co-leadership," according to Nachawati.

Nachawati is immersed in environmental, pharmaceutical and medical device litigation. He serves as a member of the Texas Opioid leadership pending in state court and represents multiple public and private clients in product-defect litigation. He is admitted to argue before the U.S. Supreme Court and is a member of the Dallas Bar Association's legal ethics and lawyer referral committees. He serves on the board of directors of Public Justice and the Texas Trial Lawyers Association and as a member of the William "Mac" Taylor American Inn of Court. Thomson Reuters named him a Texas Rising Star & Texas Super Lawyer for the past 11 years. In 2020, he was recognized as one of the Best Lawyers in America®.

McDowell specializes in asbestos, mesothelioma, mass torts, and public-client cases. His primary focus is representing individuals injured or killed by the carelessness of others. He is a renowned veteran of nationwide state and federal litigation, trying a wide variety of cases to verdict. He is a member of the American Academy of Trial Attorneys, The American Association for Justice, The National Trial Lawyers Top 100, and was voted both a Texas Rising Star and Texas Super Lawyer.
